

Products and Services

What is the Coding Standard used for Products & Services?

JSRS has been using the comprehensive coding standards of the United Nations Standards for Products & Services Code (UNSPSC) system for catalog management of all your Products and Services.

With the release of the new JSRS, a new Coding system – JSRS Category Code (JCC) has been implemented. The JCC is devised to:

- Improve the ease and effectiveness of mapping exact Products & Services within the Oil & Gas Industry
- Improve Search Engine Optimisation for effective Sourcing by the JSRS Buyers Community

All existing UNSPSC based Products & Services are now mapped to the JCC

Is there a limit to the number of Products & Services we can upload?

No, there is no limit to the number of products and services a company can upload on its profile page. However, we recommend that you frequently update your products and services page.

Is the JSRS Certification related to specific Products & Services?

Yes. The JSRS Certification is linked to specific products or services from under your products and services list, that are approved by businessgateways. It is advisable to add all your products or services to your JSRS Certificate since the more products and services you have approved, the more tendering opportunities your company will receive.

After Certification, can I add or remove the Certified Products?

Yes, you can add or remove Products & Services on the JSRS Certificate.

- To add a Products & Services, the details need to be updated on the Supplier Profile (Tier 1) and all the relevant documents need to be updated.
- Supplier must add the Products & Services for JSRS Certification by using the Map Products & Services for JSRS Certification.
- The added Products & Services will be subject to a validation by BGI Backend team.
- On successful validation, the Products & Services will be tagged as JSRS Certified

Option to remove a Products & Services will be available under Action.

How to view the approved products and services?

The JSRS Certificate provides a feature to view the approved products and services of your company. Scan the QR code on your JSRS Certificate.
